WATER RESOURCES & YOU

A monthly community gathering of citizens, water policy makers and experts to create greater education and civic collaboration on the critical water issues that affect us all.

Wednesday, January 26
Glenwood Springs City Hall - Council Chambers
5:30 pm - 7:00 pm

January Topic: What's happening with Lake Powell, the Colorado River Compact and most importantly, what we can do about it.

Keynote Speaker: Scott Balcomb

Mr. Balcomb is a partner in the firm Balcomb & Green, P.C. He currently represents the State of Colorado in the Colorado River Compact with the Lower Basin States.

Why Should You Be Interested?

Lake Powell is approximately 33% full. Water officials are predicting that if the present drought continues, water levels in Lake Powell will drop to the point that may trigger the legal ability of other states to make claims on Colorado water. This will have major implications for the State of Colorado and how all of us view and use our water resources.

Who Should Attend?

These gatherings are designed for citizens, public officials and staffs, water providers, agricultural users, water engineers and attorneys, recreationalists, fishermen and any citizen interested in our water resources.
